WHAT SHOULD YOUR 'BUSINESS AS USUAL' LOOK LIKE POST-QUARANTINE?

The COVID-19 pandemic has put the world on standstill – most countries are on lockdown and travel bans have been implemented everywhere. Businesses all over the globe have been directly affected by this crisis and once quarantines are lifted, new business norms will be in place.

Companies will have to adhere to government guidelines on social distancing for their offices which suggests that workspace densities will have to be reduced to at least 50%. This leaves businesses with three options for their workforce: (1) scout for a temporary workspace; (2) adopt a remote work or work-from-home setup; and (3) apply an A/B skeletal shifting.

Coworking spaces can help with this rising need for workspace options and provide your company with solutions for your business continuity plans.

IMPORTANCE OF COWORKING SPACES DURING COVID-19

Flexibility

Move in to your office whenever you want. Coworking spaces are fully-equipped with anything your team will need – workstations, Wi-Fi, meeting rooms, refreshments, telephones, printing services, and reception assistance. You don't have to worry about the nitty-gritty of setting up an office. All you have to do is bring your laptops and a-games on; we'll handle the rest!

Variety

You might not need all the functions of an office space. Coworking spaces offer a variety of solutions to fit your requirements. There are Serviced Offices for those looking to relocate some of their staff from the company HQ. Virtual Offices are for companies who simply need a business address while their team works from home. Coworking Seats for those who work remotely but whose homes aren't conducive for productivity.

Cost-Efficiency

During this time of crisis, companies have to be more cautious of their cash flows. Coworking spaces can help reduce some of your costs where fees are already inclusive of utilities and administrative costs. Through flexible workspaces, you can also sign up on more flexible terms which range from daily up to a year. Your commitment to your office will entirely be up to your requirements!

Community

Coworking spaces have an existing network of people your business can collaborate with, conduct business with, or partner up with. Within this community, you have the opportunity to promote or test your products and services. In times such as this, it's also important to surround yourself with people who understand what you're going through and can help you keep your mental health in check.

BUSINESS CONTINUITY FOR ENTERPRISE

Do you need a space that can temporarily house your team? It might not make sense for your company to invest in additional office costs such as internet, water, electricity, receptionists, office cleaners, and sanitation or disinfection efforts. Flexible workspaces are the ideal solution for your team – move in anytime you want because we've got everything covered!
